

ULSTER QUESTION MAY BE SETTLED BY CONSENT

Asquith's Proposals Are Generally Regarded as Long Step For Consolation

BRITISH PRESS MAKES COMMENT ON SPEECH

Time Limit Proposed by Premier For Ulster Excision May be Dropped

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
LONDON, March 9. (Western Associated Press Special Cable.)—There is a disposition to believe that Mr. Asquith's proposal to settle the Ulster question in a settlement by consent.

The peace expenses have their option upon the expressed willingness of Sir Edward Carson to consider the plan for the time being. Ulster's time limit is removed from the offer of exclusion by consent.

Today the belief is expressed that this time limit forms the only real difficulty between the Nationalists and the Ulsterites, and it is agreed that this may well form the subject for further negotiations before the bill can be introduced in the House of Lords, where alone it is capable of adjustment. There are those who believe that the time limit by agreement will be based upon Mr. Asquith's proposal without the time limit, and others who believe that a further provision of the excluded counties when a permanent settlement shall present such a demand.

World Surprised at Carsonite

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, has expressed his belief that a referendum in Ulster would surprise the Conservatives and again assure the Ulsterites that the time limit is established in the Ulster Ulster will be willing to make time to accept the admission of the time limit.

All the morning papers print long general descriptive accounts of scenes of conflict and suffering in many columns to the discussion of the premier's proposal.

Power France, the two-column article in the Standard (Conservative), finds an impression prevailing that Mr. Asquith's proposal will be accepted by the majority of Ulster. He adds:

"Neither Party is sure of the other's stand, but we can clearly see how they stand in relation to themselves."

The Standard's parliamentary reviewer notes an unquestionable change in the political complexion of the country, and the parties not being ranged against each other on the old Ulster lines.

"It is impossible to examine the proposals without misgivings. It is a bad business to be in a position to be compelled to produce a permanent definition.

World's News in Brief Form By Bulletin Leased Wire

Mrs. Hankford Rescued.—Long John Hankford, leader of the militant suffragettes, was arrested tonight at a meeting in St. Andrews hall after a fierce battle with the police. Some twenty women were hurt and seven constables were badly bruised.

McC. May Concessions.—At the Westminster, March 9.—John Place, a man of 30, provincial house, was found guilty of wilful assault and of the wilful assembly at Hastings during the coal strike trouble had fallen.

Canadian Stock Issues.—
Globe, March 9.—The Morning Post underwriters arrangements are being made for an issue of $60,000 pounds of 4% per cent. stock for the loss of a leg as a result of carelessness on the part of a Grand Trunk employee. The amount is given at $6. Tentative arrangements are also being made for a return of $90,000 pounds of the old Montreal treasury bills which mature this month.

No New Strike at Chinese.—Daily Worker, March 9.—Latest arrivals from China report that there are no definite strike funds. Those who have been down the river found no rich pay outside the localities last summer.

Prisoners in Canada.—
Prince Albert, March 9.—Considerable mystery surrounds the death of John Curran, formerly of this city, whose mangled remains were picked up on the railway a few miles from Chinese.

Montreal.—
Montreal, March 9.—The Salvation Army soup kitchen, which closed after the strike, owing to the lack of funds and in consequence more than a thousand unemployed men still meet their daily free meal.

Premier Borden Announces Committee of 15 Will Be Appointed to Make Inquiry

CHARGES OF GRAFT IN CONNECTION WITH N.B. E.Y.

Liberal Member Urges That Royal Commission be Appointed to Investigate

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

OTTAWA, March 8.—This travel to be the heaviest private members' day of the session. After many other topics had been introduced, Andrew Broadbent, the leader of the opposition, moved a resolution calling for the abolition of the manufacture, sale and importation of tobacco products. The debate had been carried on for a couple of hours, the important announcement was made by Premier Borden. The opposition committee of fifteen members of the house would be named to inquire into the charges of graft in connection with the tobacco monopoly. Mr. Borden, in the course of his speech, said that he doubted the advisability of taking such drastic steps as proposed by Mr. Broadbent, but that the committee of fifteen members of the house would be named to inquire into the charges of graft in connection with the tobacco monopoly.

Another question discussed at the session was the accusation of wrong-doing in connection with the granting of a subsidy to the British American Tobacco Co. of New Brunswick.

The gravamen of the charge as made by E. B. Carrall was that E. G. Smith, the manager of the tobacco monopoly, had received a subsidy of $2,000,000.

The sketch was made by Mr. Rockefeller.

Another question discussed at the session was the accusation of wrong-doing in connection with the granting of a subsidy to the British American Tobacco Co. of New Brunswick.

According to the letter the association would like to have the subsidy of $2,000,000 in the south-west of 24 and 15, but the former were school lands and the latter railway lands, so the amount of the subsidy would be $1,000,000.

The letter, however, states that these lands are not in the possession of the tobacco monopoly, but in the possession of the city commissioners.

Metre rates for water run all the way from 25 cents to 7 cents per thousand gallons. The spread certainly seems abnormal. It is reasonable that the large user should get a discount proportioned to the economy of supplying one service rather than many. The spread in the present rates looks as though the smaller user were being made pay part of the large user's legitimate charges.

Calgary has sold an issue of debentures at 96 net. Edmonton obtained 94.11 for the unsoiled debentures on hand last year. The interest rate in each case is five per cent, which means that something more than five has to be paid for the money actually received. These are not temporary loans, but long-term debenture issues. While prices for issues of this character are no better, the prudent course will be to borrow only what cannot be done without.

Any government which discharges employees merely to make places for political friends does an injustice to the victims and tends to debase politics into a seamy place for plunder. Most governments of Canada have done it to a greater or less extent. By comparison to its predecessors the Laurier Government treated appointments of the preceding administration with a fairness which marked a radical and hopeful departure from the spoils system, and enacted legislation which permanently freed the "inside" section of the public service from the axe of the partisan executioner. The Borden Government has not only reversed this evolutionary step toward a more respectable order of things, but has set a new record in Demagogic affairs for political domination. Employees who have been dismissed because relatives who had been in their graves for years were alleged, rightly or wrongly, to have been active Liberals. Men against whom no accusations of partisanship while in office had been made could have been made have been summarily notified that their services were no longer required, though the position they occupied have not been abolished. The Minister-General holds the record in having driven one ironmous petty official to suicide through fear of dismissal, and in having dismissed for partisanship in the late election another holder of a small office who had been dead for years before the election was announced. Not to be outdone in vengeful zeal, the Minister of Marine has now added to the list to also "fire" a dead man. All this has transpired under a Premier who went into office pledged upon a hundred platforms voluntarily and emphatically, to administer the civil service on a business basis and free from the manipulations of bosses and job-hunters. So far Mr. Borden's defence has consisted in a philosophical disquisition to the effect that so long as the public service is to be used in elections it must be used, and that the reward will be denied him. That from the bottom of a government is nothing less than a formal announcement that so long as he remains in power appointment to the civil service will be used as a bribe to be won by political service, and that places for the workers will be made regardless of justice, i.e., pledges, public interest or political decency.

A number of Mexican newsmen have been put in jail for not doing their thinking along the line President Huerta desired. The local city administration have not yet gone to this length in their efforts to shut off the expression of opinion, but there is no telling what may happen next.

According to figures presented to Parliament, the cost of the National Transcontinental graft-hunting commission down to February 18, 1914, was $63,388.45, made up as follows:

F. P. Gurdines $74,465.48
Other expenses $18,843.96

As Mr. Lynch-Stanton's bill covers only such periods of time during the past two years as he spared from his law practice, and as Mr. Gurdines is understood to have done his hunting in the intervals of managing the Inter-Colonial Railway, the zeal of the Ministers on behalf of economy seems hardly to be carried out from the face of the continent. What the cost would have been if these two gentlemen had devoted their whole time to the business can only be surmised.

The London idea of the new Canadian loan is that the Government are merely trying to steal a march on the investor, and to get that march by getting a loan from him for MacKenzie and Mann cheaper than the investors would let the promoters have it. That scheme would be good for MacKenzie and Mann but bad for the Canadian taxpayer. The London money-lender is a man whose confidence Canada cannot afford to lose. That confidence comes by continuous journey from the land of their birth or citizenship. The judge had rendered his decision on habeas corpus proceedings on behalf of thirty-six Hindus who had been detained for trial at Vancouver, and who on the judge's order had been released. The Government had then amended the regulations mentioned to comply with the objections raised by the judge, but had not yet issued the order to keep out Hindus and allow white men to enter, they had passed the regulation of December 8th, excluding everybody except the Chinese who came in under a special act, and the Japanese who came in under a special agreement. Mr. Oliver pointed out that there was no more occasion for the decision to have submitted to the Canadian Government and also during the later term when MacKenzie and MacDonald had changed sides in the House. For many years he was one of the most distinguished members of the Mowat Government of Ontario, and succeeded Hon. A. S. Hardy in the premiership of that Province. It was his misfortune to inherit a legacy of party conduct which had continued to grow worse with the passing of the exclusion order of December 8th would not have arisen. He wanted to know why the Minister of the Interior had not exercised the authority vested in him by the act for the purpose for which it was designed—namely, to prevent interference by the courts in the decisions of the department as to the exclusion of Hindus.

The death of Senator Geo. W. Ross removes a distinguished man from the stage of public life where he has long been a notable figure. He sat in the Dominion Senate from 1901 to 1905, and also during the later term when MacKenzie and MacDonald had changed sides in the House. For many years he was one of the most distinguished members of the Mowat Government of Ontario, and succeeded Hon. A. S. Hardy in the premiership of that Province. It was his misfortune to inherit a legacy of party conduct which had continued to grow worse with the passing of the exclusion order of December 8th would not have arisen. He wanted to know why the Minister of the Interior had not exercised the authority vested in him by the act for the purpose for which it was designed—namely, to prevent interference by the courts in the decisions of the department as to the exclusion of Hindus.

The Minister of the Interior referred Mr. Oliver to the Minister of Justice for an answer.

The Minister of Justice said that in the cases of Thaw and Bhagwan Singh the writs of the courts had either not been properly served or properly issued, and, therefore, the department was not subject to them. In the case of Bhagwan Singh the writ was properly issued and the case being brought before Chief Justice Hunter, who had issued the writ, he had decided that as the regulations were in his (Chief Justice Hunter's) judgment not in exact accordance with the acts, the department had not the proper authority to deport, and, therefore, the Hindus were removed. The Minister of Justice expressed the opinion that the deposit funds that had the right to prevent interference by the courts with the actions of the immigration officials taken under the law to secure the rejection of undesirable immigrants, and that the departmental officials could ignore the order of the court. But, do

IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Ottawa, March 3rd.

Asian Immigration was under consideration yesterday on a motion of Mr. Oliver for papers relating to the order issued at the 8th of December last, which prevented the landing of white artisans or laborers in British Columbia until March 31st, but did not prevent the landing of Chinese. He contended that such a regulation was ill-advised in that it was to give better opportunity than before for Chinese to secure employment. The number of Chinese coming into Canada was in 1913, 6,817. In 1912, 7,146; the first eleven months of 1913, 5,088. That they were displaced white men was shown by the figures given by the Minister of Labor, that of 690 miners employed underground in the Dunsmuir, Limited, of Vancouver Island, in May, 1913, 435 (or practically 2 out of 3), were Chinese.

The occasion of the passing of the order of December 8th was a decision of Chief Justice Hunter, that the regulations under which Hindus had been kept out of the country since 1910 were not in proper form, and were, therefore, ineffective.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Not Even Brilliant Crop Prospects Had Effect on May Wheat

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Wheat prices for May delivery declined today on account of the small amount offered but the July option was relatively weaklying to ideal conditions for the new crop. The class was steady at the start but then fell to 4 1/2 cents lower. Oats showed a net loss of 10 cents to 4 1/4.

Now the brilliant crop prospects were sufficient to induce aggressive selling of May wheat in the market, but not for higher prices on reserves. The case was different, however, in regard to the new crop, which was offered at 10 cents more than the more distant delivery brought out through commission houses, heavy discounts on the side. The result was that May wheat declined during that season that preceded.

A sharp break in oats came as the inevitable result of the Washington price cut, which was reflected in the grain firms. The rush to unload carried down prices a cent a bushel before profit making by shorted dealers was effected.

Chicago, March 9.—Selling of wheat by commission houses today netted out gains due to a moderate bullish construction of the government report. The market, however, selling did not develop, however, until the market had made a fair adjustment and perfect conditions for the domestic winter crop counted against the bulls. The market was 10 cents higher and there was a slight additional optimism before the reaction set in.

Sentiment regarding oats was also most universally bearish on account of a small amount of grain larger than expected. A sharp break came right at the start and there was no sign of any improvement.

A decrease in the visible supply caused a fall forward to a slight rate. The market was steady at 1 to 1 1/2 cent higher.

Minneapolis, March 9.—Cash oats No. 1, 134 to 137.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Winnipeg, March 9.—The world market report stated that had been pretty well discounted before publication for wheat prices hardly reflected the new crop, but the market had a very steady tone.

The government report on this grain was unexpected bearing and stocks were at a point of great strength at the opening but fell off on a very quiet market.

Wheat was being offered 281 cars inspected and 289 in sight.

American receipts: Minneapolis, 200; Omaha, 100; Chicago, 100; St. Paul, 100.

Cash trade is very quiet and in order to get higher prices.

There is a good demand for lower grades while a strong advance in price.

Gold closed 10 cents lower.

Paris 1 to 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower.

Berlin 1 to 1 1/2 lower.

Budapest 1 to 1 1/2 lower.

Antwerp unchanged.

ULSTER QUESTION MAY BE SETTLED BY CONSENT

live peace, on the time limit visited that day.

It is interesting to note insurance rates against an electric before July have doubled since the last measurement, indicating the electric heat of a situation may be overestimated.

The Daily Citizen (Halifax) declares that the Ulster left a general impression that an immediate resolution of the question is required, but it confesses that the sitting ended, as it began, with an intermission more than an hour.

The Post (Montreal) editorially declares that the Free Assemblies' statement has done more to injure the cause of Ulster than any other.

The Post (Montreal) editorially declares that the Free Assemblies' statement has done more to injure the cause of Ulster than any other.

The Post (Montreal) editorially declares that the Free Assemblies' statement has done more to injure the cause of Ulster than any other.

What may have no faith in the movement, which is the only word to describe the scheme to be undertaken.

SAYS NATIONALISTS ANGRY

The Post's Dublin correspondent echoes, is of course, of Ulster's sympathies, revealing that the nationalists are angry from a sense that they have been betrayed.

The Post (Montreal) states that time has not been better than a trap to deprive Ulster of her organization and assumes that it is only a temporary arrangement which will make it subsequently disappear whenever the Free Assemblies' will be unworkable.

The Northern Whig of Belfast declares that Mr. Asquith has spoken his last word there is nothing to do but wait and wait.

The Post (Montreal) in its waste in considering the proposals the Free Assemblies' would be better employed in strength.

SEASIDE PROPOSALS REJECTED

The Daily Herald (Independent-Liberal) states that the Free Assemblies' have decided as ridiculous and declares that Ireland remains in a state of political incapacity. It adds:

"Possibly Liberalism's next great scheme will be a declaration of the advisability of buying the devil with a smile."

The Daily Chronicle (Liberal) declares that the offer is incapable of plausible rejection and adds that a settlement by consent is visible and that the civil war period is over.

The Post (Montreal) is of the opinion that the Free Assemblies' are right to continue fighting in order to destroy the Free Assemblies' who are trying to save the Empire. It is regretful to those who believe that the Free Assemblies' proposals are neither a settlement nor a solution.

The Daily News (Ministerial) says:

"There is reason for saying that the Free Assemblies' are right. The time has come when we are asked to assent to the Home Rule Bill. He would send a message to the Free Assemblies' in serving the right to publish the document."

The Daily News says editorially:

"The terms which generally exceed expectations form the thick end of an axe which will cut off Ireland's head when it will enter upon her new career unhampered and weakened. We have alluded to the fact that the Free Assemblies' have begun to make terms."

The Times fails to see any prospect that the terms will be accepted. The principle of exclusion is precisely acknowledged, but unless the terms are amended the offer is rightly doomed to fail.

The Daily Mail says editorially:

"The proposition of the Free Assemblies' in return for the surrender of principle are offered an illusory concession."

The Birmingham Post (Unionist) thinks that "there is no possibility of acceptance of the offer, which is bad to the bone."

In a letter to the Times, the Archdeacon of Canterbury recalls that the Free Assemblies' and the church prayed that states might have a vision of a resolute public spirit to ensure a better future for all.

"Has the hour come tonight to look for an answer to that prayer? Have we still to wait? I hope not. The Free Assemblies' have a right to demand that the ground, the very treacherous ground, of which makes possible a solution of what we have been told to do, is paved upon what they learn. It is an easy task to be a force behind making for peace, not strife, and steady, broad, remove and pray."

MONARCHS DECIDE TO PLAY :: DOMINIONS LEAVE FOR M.J.

ATHLETICS
THE RING
BOWLINGDominions Left Last Night;
Meet Vics. on Wednesday

Alberta Champions Expect to Reach Moose Jaw This Afternoon and Practice Tonight—Twelve Made the Trip in a Private Car

Gaily decked with green and gold, the Alberta team, members of the Edmonton Dominions, left on their return to the North Side depot last evening with Moose Jaw, Sask., as their destination. The trip will be the return of Mr. F. C. Shadur's "manned" hauls down in Wednesday night's edition of the Calgary Herald. Alberta, hook up with the Regina Victoria, and then travel to Moose Jaw, in a double outfit, for the right to journey to Winnipeg in quest of the Allan cup. The winners of this elimination game will be given three days to follow the Kenois-Monarchs series.

Expect to Win

While the Moose Jaw team cannot be called the best in the West, the Kenois still the Dominions feel confident of giving their opponents a hard game and then, if necessary, a good game going until Winnipeg is reached. What makes them all the more determined to win is the fact that the challenge and the earlier treatment accorded them by Mr. Northey's representative, P. F. Shadur.

The team, which is in a special car over the C.P.R., those in the party are: Captain, Mr. F. C. Shadur; Kenois, Eddie French; Mr. C. M. Terry; McIverton, Barney Stanley; Lloyd Cook, Leo Cook; George Baird, Dinsdale, Manners, Scott McLeod and K. McEwan. Clyde Shanderson was unable to get away from his business, The Moose Jaw, and will remain on rather than the North Side depot last evening with Moose Jaw, Sask., as their destination. The trip will be the return of Mr. F. C. Shadur's "manned" hauls down in Wednesday night's edition of the Calgary Herald. Alberta, hook up with the Regina Victoria, and then travel to Moose Jaw, in a double outfit, for the right to journey to Winnipeg in quest of the Allan cup. The winners of this elimination game will be given three days to follow the Kenois-Monarchs series.

Will Practice Tonight

The team expects to arrive in Moose Jaw this afternoon at 4 p.m. and will practice in the evening. Their bodies will have a practice on the Moose Jaw rink. Delmage of Moose Jaw is to be the official who will announce who will be at a yet a mystery. Neither Fred Whitford nor Fred Whitehead were seen so as to be sure. Says there is a chance that Dan McLeod, Calgary, may be an official. In reality, the team will be an official, one official even if they have to appoint Russell Frazier who is vice-president of the club.

For Practice Cup

It is likely the Dominions will play a game with the Regina Victoria, and that the first game may be used to serve a dual purpose with a second game in Regina.

All over Alberta is the consensus of opinion that the Dominions have a good chance to win the Allan cup. The Kenois, who are in a special car over the C.P.R., those in the party are: Captain, Mr. F. C. Shadur; Kenois, Eddie French; Mr. C. M. Terry; McIverton, Barney Stanley; Lloyd Cook, Leo Cook; George Baird, Dinsdale, Manners, Scott McLeod and K. McEwan. Clyde Shanderson was

BRONCHOS SIGN THREE

Special to The Bulletin

CALGARY, March 8.—Three Canadian footballers received at local hotel yesterday a letter from Manager Devereux. The new players are Fred Whitford, 5 ft. 9 in., and J. H. Villon. The manager never sent along the documents, omitting any reference to the records of the recruits. The Calgary roster is beginning to assume a professional aspect and it is a credit to the Bronchos who are fighting for place in the first division. The locals will train at the camp as the San Francisco Seals.

CHARGE PLAYERS WITH FAKING TO WIN WAGERS

O.H.A. Executive Will be Asked to Take Action Over Alleged Mislead

HAMILTON, Ont., March 9.—The O.H.A. will be asked to take action in the matter of the recent charges of players, who played for Minto in Galt, and under assumed names, in the O.H.A. last week. The government is to be asked to act. There was great rivalry between the two places and one night last week the Minto team beat the Galt team in both games and one night later the Galt team beat the Minto team and net a sum of money on the game. At half time the journeying team was given a sum of money and the two sides were given then. The wise choice of Minto took every bit in sight and the Galt team was given a sum of money, so a richer. The Preston and Midland men were under check until the final game, when the Galt team beat the two Minto men in the game. The Galt team beat the Minto team in the first game and two from Preston. As soon as the names of the "dark horses" were known the Galt team had a clear up on its name.
